I am a proud sponsor of SETI Talks. The SETI Institute brings together some of the brightest minds around the world who are working on understanding and solving really complex science mysteries of our time -- and even better, it strives to share that knowledge with the broader community at large.

-Wendi Zhang

I am thrilled to support them as they bring together experts to discuss wide-ranging, high impact topics to the world - from artificial intelligence to mass extinctions to the meaning of life itself. I am always enriched by the talks and encourage anyone else who can to support them.

-Carl Kruse
